

Dear alumni,

In the journey of education and personal growth, the tireless spirit of our students shines as a beacon of inspiration reminding us of a core Jesuit value — to always put others ahead of ourselves.

I am delighted to introduce you to a remarkable young man whose life has been touched by the transformative power of a BC High education steeped in faith, justice, and service to others — only made possible by our giving community of donors.

*Meet Tristin, a spirited and adventurous Senior from South Boston who has spent nearly six years experiencing a BC High formation. As you read about his experiences and accomplishments, you will come to understand the profound impact that your generosity has on his life, and on all the lives of the remarkable young men learning and living the tenets that we hold dear — competence, conscience, and compassion.

*Tristin radiates an infectious zest for life and draws inspiration from his family, friends, and God. He has an unwavering faith in the notion that each day is a gift meant to be lived fully and is grateful for being part of a school community that is so committed to service to others. Your support is a genuine representation of this commitment.

What truly sets BC High apart for Tristin is the sense of community that envelops him. He speaks with genuine warmth about the fellowship amongst students and teachers alike. The brotherhood he's formed here, both with his peers and mentors, have provided him with faithful support in meeting the rigors of his formation with resilience and determination. His successful journey through academic challenges, including the shift to remote learning during the pandemic, underscores the strength he derives from this tight-knit community.

Tristin Pecevich, radiating the satisfaction of achievement fueled by the unwavering generosity of donors like you.

Alumni like you know better than anyone about the grit, determination, and compassion for others that develops as a BC High student — which has likely transcended throughout your life. Your generosity has played a pivotal role in ensuring that BC High students continue to benefit from a Jesuit, Catholic education's roadmap for making sense of an increasingly complex world while listening to your conscience in service to others.

Will you renew your commitment to your alma mater with a gift today?

(over, please)

BC HIGH

Through his years at BC High, Tristin has not only excelled academically but passionately describes his involvement in the Better Men Project, Varsity baseball, Alpha Group, and various service trips. These experiences have not only broadened his horizons but have shaped him into a compassionate and responsible young man, ready to face life's challenges as a leader and man for others.

Supporters of BC High like you, play a vital role in fostering these remarkable transformations. Your generous contributions will directly empower students like Tristin to expand their perspectives, cultivate empathy, and develop into compassionate and resilient young men.

One of Tristin's proudest moments at BC High include his time on the Varsity baseball team – a culmination of a dream he's held since childhood. Through both victories and defeats, he found a brotherhood that helped him develop competence through both challenging academics and athletics, further reinforcing the unique Ignatian commitment to family, friends, and the community.

Your generosity not only supports the development of athletic skills but creates lasting memories and reinforces the unique spirit of our school community for years to come. A community that includes the enriching presence of Jesuits living here on Morrissey Boulevard, many of which continue to serve as role models and mentors.

Reflecting on his journey, Tristin acknowledges that BC High's impact extends far beyond the classroom. The values he's instilled here and the sense of purpose and compassion he's developed, will forever shape his outlook on the world. He plans to harness these skills to make a meaningful difference and become a true Man for Others.

As we stand at the threshold of another school year, I invite you to be part of this incredible journey. The greater good truly begins with you paving the way for a brighter future. Just as those who came before have paved the way for Tristin, he is now preparing to join their ranks, poised for success, and committed to embodying the spirit of BC High.

With a deep sense of pride in the exceptional students of BC High, we extend our heartfelt appreciation for your continued partnership in transforming lives and shaping the leaders who will illuminate the world of tomorrow.

AMDG,

Grace Cotter Regan P'12

P.S. When you make a gift to BC High, you are not just funding education; you are molding the very heart and soul of BC High. Please give generously today!